ALL-ARMY TEAM THAT PLAYS CHICAGO TO BE CRACKERJACK

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, Aug. 29.—When the University of Chicago goes against the All-Army team next Friday afternoon at Athletic Park, the baseball fans will have a chance to see an army team such as made the army famous in the Philippines in the early days. Lieut. Charles Lyman has been training the team hard for the past two weeks and has boasted to the weak spots until it appears to be the strongest aggregation of ball players in the islands. Lieut. "Wop" Sadler will fill the hole left at the keystone when Burton's services were withdrawn, and the outfield has been strengthened by the addition of Judd of the 1st Infantry, who without doubt is the best fielder in these parts. An error was made a short time ago when it was announced that the team was to lose its capable manager, but Sergeant Richter will be on the job Saturday and when the old game is resurrected in Honolulu Richter and "Doc" Monsarrat will be at the main entrance. The line-up of the All-Army team Friday will be: Sauer, c; Lawton, p; Lyman, 1b; Sadler, 2b; Dumshot, ss; Hundley, 3b; Judd, lf; Holcomb, cf; Donsett, rf, with Peed as the reserve pitcher.

VAST CROWDS CHEER FINE RACES AT BIG MEET HELD AT SCHOFIELD

Hundreds of Automobiles, Special Train and Men From Posts Witness Contests

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Aug. 29.—Not since the long-to-be-remembered county fair of a year ago has so large a crowd been gathered together at the big army post as on hand Saturday to witness the excellent races and mounted exhibitions held on the plains of Lethia. Hundreds of automobiles and a special train ran by the Oahu railroad brought a large representation from Honolulu which included Governor Pinkham and Majors, and Mrs. W. H. Carter.

Hundreds of more who came from Honolulu there were very few of the 5000 officers and soldiers at Schofield who were not present at the races and showed the enlisted men were all military men of charge there were many who chose to purchase seats in the grandstand.

The military have not yet been received from all the batteries and troops where tickets were left on sale but it is estimated that the proceeds over and above expenses will amount to more than $200, not enough to send the team to the exposition as was originally hoped by the officers in charge. However, it is more than likely that the balance required to send the 24 horses by commercial lines that go to take part in the mounted competitions and races at San Francisco, may be made up in some other way.

Everyone pleased.

The events were carried out exactly as planned and there were no tedious delays between the races. Even the short intervals were filled in by lively music furnished by the artillery and cavalry bands. Except for the natural difficulty of handling a large crowd with the few facilities obtainable in the way of seats, fences and boundary lines, the entertainment could not have been more pleasantly conducted. Great credit is due the three officers in charge of the meet and their many assistants. Those interested in charge were Lieut. E. M. Whiting and W. S. Martin, 4th Cavalry, and Lieut. W. C. Potter, 1st Field Artillery. Their principal assistant was Capt. W. P. Saportas, 4th Cavalry, who has been a live wire in the organization from the day the meet was planned.

C Troop Wins Race.

The first event was a rescue race which was full of dash and thrills. This is strictly a cavalry event and the field artillery were not entered. Sgt. Harmon and Pvt. John C. Troop were first to cross the finish line, with Cpl. Livingston and Pvt. Rogers of I Troop in second place. Sgt. Hawkins and Sgt. Hut of K Troop were third. Davana Wins Roman Race.

In the second event, Pvt. Davana of D Troop, substituting for Lorka standing on the horses running at full speed for half a mile in what is known as a Roman race, nosed out Evans of A Troop. Parley of H Troop finished third.

Artillery Wins Jumping.

In the third event the eight entries who have been for months preparing for the competition to be held at the Panama-Pacific exposition in October performed some excellent feats in jumping, taking their mounts over 15 different kinds of hurdles known as the Stockholm jumps. There were only two falls and very few times did any of the horses touch the top of the jumps or knock down a bar. Sgt. Edgar C. Van Hook of Battery D, 1st Field Artillery, was awarded first prize with 91 per cent. Cpl. Brown of Battery D was second with 89 1/2 per cent. Sgt. Harmon of Troop C, 4th Cavalry, third with 89 1/2 per cent. The lowest percentage made was 84 1/2, showing how excellently the horses had been trained.

Dandy Wins Polo Pony Race.

The first race was started five minutes after 3 o'clock by Capt. Laurence W. Redington, N. G. H., who got the seven ponies off on an excellent start for their quarter-mile dash. It was a pretty sight as the speedy ponies with their riders in white breeches, black boots and brilliantly colored shirts swept down to the finish almost neck and neck. Arthur Rice on Frank Baldwin's Dandy finished first in 45 1/2 seconds. Lieut. W. C. Potter on Kay, a government pony, was not far behind. Lieut. J. O. Daly was third on Lieut. Harold Hundley's pony Jag, entered by Lieut. G. S. Gay who is caring for the pony during the absence of Lieut. Hundley.

Kay is a Hawaiian bred pony purchased by the government about eight months ago. He was broken and trained by Lieut. Potter and was ridden in the inter-island polo tournament by Lieut. L. A. Beard.

In addition to the cash prizes for this race, Arthur Rice became possessor of a beautiful trophy presented by Wall & Dougherty of Honolulu. Some Heavy Falls.

All but one of the horses entered in the officers' steeplechase spilled his rider over a jump and Lieut. E. M. Whiting who rode a clever race on his thoroughbred Mohawk Boy was a quarter mile in the lead at the finish.

The first to go down were Lieut. K. C. Palmer on Robert and Cpl. Chiles riding Lieut. T. C. Martin's Galilee. These two horses running almost neck and neck toppled together over the second jump, almost in front of the grandstand. It looked like an ugly mix-up. Galilee rolled completely over his rider. Lieut. Palmer was more fortunate in being thrown clear. Lieut. Palmer, dazed, mounted his horse again and continued the race with Lieut. Whiting more than a quarter mile ahead of him. Cpl. Enlow, though not seriously injured, was unable to continue.

The third down was Lieut. H. W. Hall on Jack Horner. Lieut. Hall held on to the bridle but it broke and the horse continued on the race alone for a while running neck and neck over the jump with Lieut. Whiting and finally going to the stables.

Whiting was having a hard time catching Pvt. Casey on Imp who had a quarter-mile start. Imp, however, struck the hurdle in front of the grandstand on the second round and went to his knees while Casey executed a double somersault and landed on his face some yards in front. Casey was badly dazed but was able to mount within a few minutes and finished third behind Lieut. Palmer. Imp is owned by Capt. S. S. Creighton, Medical Corps.

Lieut. Whiting rode with a broken nose received from a fall the day before and was cheered as he left the judges' stand with the Hackfeld trophy and the cup presented by von Hamm-Young Company in his arms. Jack Horner Runs Great Race.

There was some delay in starting the third race, a half-mile on the flat for Hawaiian bred horses. Jack Horner, Capt. R. O. Mason's seven-year-old thoroughbred that had run to the state after throwing his rider in the previous race, was late getting to the starting point. This horse, though he had just galloped some five or six miles, won the half-mile race by several lengths, with Capt. Mason, Jr. riding, ridden by Pvt. Lightfoot, Company C, 25th Infantry, was second, and Duke, a Troop C horse ridden by Pvt. Sparks, was third.

Jack Horner is a half-brother of Maj. Collier, the most celebrated Hawaiian race horse. He was foaled in April, 1907, at the Horner ranch on the island of Hawaii and brought to Oahu as a prospective polo pony by Walter Dillingham. A few months later he was purchased by Lieut. F. W. Dowley, 1st Field Artillery, who broke and trained him.

Mohawk Boy Wins Again.

The fourth race was six furlongs on the flat open to all, with Lieut. Whiting on Mohawk Boy an easy winner for the trophy presented by Messrs. Wichman & Company of Honolulu.

Lieut. Palmer's Robert was second, ridden by Lightfoot, and Fritz, a charger owned by Lieut. Col. Carl Reichmann, though taking the lead at the start, was only able to finish third. Fritz was ridden by Pvt. Wood, Company F, 25th Infantry, formerly a jockey in the Foxhall Keene stables. Greatest Race of All.

Considerable anxiety was felt when 11 horses started in the steeplechase for enlisted men, on account of the numerous falls in the officers' steeplechase which only through great fortune did not result more seriously. Several of the officials were in favor of making two races with six starters in one and five in the other but the soldiers were all for starting together and start together they did, for one of the prettiest races ever seen on a steeplechase course.

SHAFTER IS GETTING READY FOR FOOTBALL ON NEW GRIDIRON

The service teams are getting ready for the football grid this fall and the preparations have made the greatest advance at Fort Shafter where Lieut. Charles B. Lyman has called out a large squad for practice. Despite the handicap which the Shafter squad will be up against owing to the loss of many of the veterans who starred on their team last year, the men are turning out well and Lieut. Lyman expects to whip a strong team into shape before the games commence.

A big impetus will be given the game by the opening of the new field at the end of the car line which will greatly excel the old gridiron on the Fort Shafter parade. The new field will probably be in readiness for the first game of the series, which will include games with the 1st Infantry, 4th Cavalry, Coast Artillery, Field Artillery, 2d Infantry and Marines. The 1st Infantry won the series last fall.

Meiji Versus C. A. C.

Glory to Contend, whose disciples waited with a truly celestial patience last Saturday until the final inning of a game that appeared hopelessly lost, when they rose together and smote the cover from the ball for a total of no less than four runs, and from the religious enthusiasm with which the Chinese boys swung the bat that inning might still be in progress had not that fourth run, won the game.

It was the old story of a Meiji pitcher starting with a big lead given him by his team, squeezing through the pinches for a while by the aid of his teammates' tight fielding and blowing up at the close. It would have been easy for the Chinese from the first if they had not started their port side, Sam Ku.

With the best intentions in the world Sam started hurling the ball in the general direction of the plate, but it was lost before he could find it. The result was three passes and a scratch hit before he was yanked. His successor, Ching Pui, pitched an excellent game after he got going, but before he could stem the tide of war in the first the runs were piled up to 4. In the second the Meiji shot another run across, and in the fourth repeated to the tune of two more tallies. Here they lost interest in the travels of the sphere, and for the rest of the game were helpless, four dying at the plate.

The Chinese played the reverse game; starting slowly, they made their first score in the third on a single to left, a pass, a sacrifice, and an error at short. In the sixth they started to slam the sphere in earnest. Ping Kong led off with a mighty drive to the left field that brought him up at second. En Sue followed with a pretty smash past Ikeda that brought home Kong. Nakazawa's error and Toon's hit through Ikeda filled the sacks, and then Ah Pui made a hero of himself by lifting the ball into the center garden for two sacks, scoring two runs.

In the seventh and eighth the Chinese kept slashing away at the ball, but the fine fielding of the visitors kept them away from the plate. In the ninth, however, they located Osawa's offering with such force that Stallings' crew themselves couldn't have handled their drives. The result was a triple, a double and three singles and the bell dinged four times.

The game merely proved what has been shown a thousand times before, that the best of fielding cannot win for a team which is weak at the bat and in the box.
